15-minute
transfer¹

Instant online decision

Good credit not required

Great customer service

¹Where available, a transaction fee is required for 15-minute transfers. If your debit card supports instant deposits, LendUp sends the money to your debit card instantly. Your bank determines exactly when the deposit is available to you. Usually, this is within 15 minutes, but it can take up to two hours, and in some cases longer.

Customer notice: This is an expensive line of credit and should be used for short-term financial needs only. Customers with credit difficulty should seek credit counseling. LendUp uses nontraditional sources of data to make credit decisions. Applicants with poor and no traditional credit are regularly approved.

Testimonials are from actual LendUp customers. Customers may have received LendUp incentives in return for participating in an interview.

“You seem to take the word loan and change it to opportunity.”
